

Welcome to the F.ITranet!

And this is how it works:

2. create a profile

On the "Profil" page you will find questions that will later be used to create your individual profile. The more detailed you answer the questions, the better company representatives can get an idea of who you are.

1. registration

Check that you register as an interested woman and sign up with the email address that you want to use later to receive inquiries.

3. get together

Under the menu item "Zusammenfinden" you can see all the companies that want to get in touch with women interested in IT. You can also search for companies that match your requirements.

4. contact a company

If you have found an interesting company, you can contact this company via the contact form. Write as precisely as possible what job you are interested in. If you want, you can also attach your application documents.

5. receive a reply

If the company finds your request interesting and gets back to you, you will receive the reply directly to the e-mail address you registered with on the F.ITranet. Attention: Be sure to check the SPAM folder as well!

The F.IT project is supported by the Senator for Economics, Labor and Europe from the funds of the state and the European Social Fund Plus.
